Introducing Autopilot System X...

There are so many ways to setting your business on Autopilot and generating passive income without doing anything. Affiliate marketing, selling your own ebooks and all... To be honest, I think autoblogging is one of the easiest options available out there.

I've read so many guides and threads on this topic teaching all about the whitehat and blackhat techniques; it's a pretty attractive niche I would say.

Autoblogging can be done completely free or enhanced by the addition of a few purchased plugins or software.

However, it all depends on you.

Whether you want to do it with the free resources or power up with additional plugins, it's all your choice.

What I am going to do in this short report is to show you a few starters and tools for those who want to set up your own autoblog (we'd be talking about using Wordpress and Blogger).

Without further ado, let's get on to topic!

AutoBlog Basics

Autoblogging is definitely one of the easiest way to generating auto instant profits. The reason is simple, once you've set up your system and have all the necessary posts queued, there's no more need for you to revisit your blog and you can start earning money without touching your blog for a long while.

You cut down on the time spent in generating profits and you can use this time elsewhere to generate more profits.

As the name suggests; AutoBlog would be a Blog that runs automatically on its own without having you to post every now and then. Simply put, you would need a blog.

You can set up one for free at Blogger or Wordpress, I personally have blogs in both places but I would say that Wordpress is still my preferred choice.

In this first part, we'd talk briefly about Autoblogging and how we actually go about setting up our own AutoBlog...

#1: Determining Your Topic / Theme

There are so many guides out there that tells you about “how to choose the right topic”, “how to determine your niche”, “identifying the right niche” and more...

In fact, choosing your topic or theme for your blog should be really easy. In fact, you shouldn't even need to think about it. Whether it's a broad topic or a specified sub-niche, it's all up to you.

In fact, you can choose to go really broad like: Weight Loss. Or you can be really detailed and talk about: Twitter Traffic Generation.

#2: Getting the Content

Blog contents can come from your own articles, Private label articles or you can simply grab feeds from other sites or blogs (no worries, we'd talk more about this part in the later sections).

You can find articles on ezine directories and such. In fact, there are lots of websites that offer these. All you need to do is to run a search online ☺

The key to good content is to mix up the variety.

Don't just post text posts 24/7, be more innovative and add in some videos and audios, even if it's only pictures it's fine because it adds more “variation” to your posts and make things more lively.

#3: Monetizing Your AutoBlogs

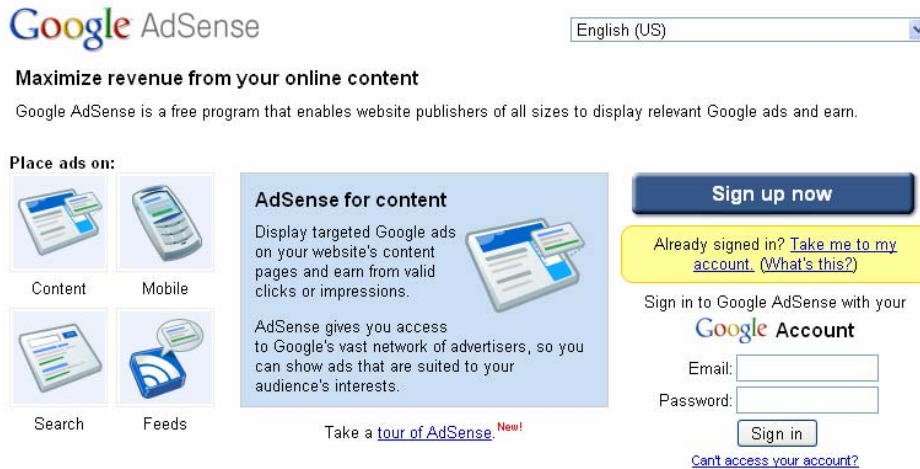

The easiest way to monetizing your blog is definitely through affiliating. You can help promote people's products or simply put a banner ad or link somewhere.

Some places to start would be Clickbank and AdSense.

Clickbank

©2010 Google - Publisher Solutions - Success Stories - Help - Blog - Forum - Terms - Program Policies

AdSense

#4: Traffic Generation

Whatever you do, it all goes back to the same old problem -- how to generate traffic to your website?

Autopilot System X

Under Wordpress, there are actually SEO optimization options already available, if not you can also download plugins to enhance your traffic counts.

If you need other methods to generate traffic, you can always use social networking sites like Twitter, Facebook and Myspace.

Otherwise, you can always submit your blog to blog directories and even promote on forums.

The trick is that you should always link back to your autoblog and it's best not to sound like you're actually promoting something but instead just trying to share something, always provide some sort of useful information to increase your credibility.

Basic AutoBlog (Blogger)

Under Blogger, there is this option that allows you to use your email to post to your blog, and this is the exact function that we're going to take advantage of.

Under "Settings" > "Email & Mobile", all you have to do is to input a dedicated email that you'd be using to post to this blog.

Now, do a search for a RSS that you would like to use.

If you're in the dog training niche, you might want to try googling for the term:

"Dog training" + RSS

After you found a RSS of your liking, go create a blog under Blogger and enter the previous dedicated blogger email into here:

Using FeedMyInbox

Right, so now you're equipped with the RSS that you want to use and the email you're going to use, now go to FeedMyInbox.com:

There, you're all set! Soon, emails would be sent to your blogger and you would have posts there!

Go ahead and explore the functions and try out their different settings. 😊

Notice: A more detailed version of this FeedMyInbox guide is found in Auto Instant Profits. On top of using FeedMyInbox, there are many other ways that you can send feeds to your blog as blog posts by using other methods which are covered in Auto Instant Profits too.

Basic Autoblog (Wordpress)

The best thing about Wordpress is the countless plugins and scripts available out there which is really helpful!

There are a lot of ways and methods and different plugins that we can use. In fact, if you don't want to use plugins, Wordpress itself have the options of scheduling posts!

Which means you can post dozens of articles and useful posts all on one single day and set them to be posted for weeks and even months! Of course that would take up quite some time but it's absolutely free so I guess it's worth the effort.

If you think manually posting articles and setting them to be published on a different date is too tiring then you're just like me!

And luckily for people like us, we have tools that are really helpful and help decrease the efforts we need to do things and that's plugins.

There are a lot of useful plugins out there, some free and some that needs a little investment and out of so many plugins I've used, one of the most affordable and useful plugins I've used is definitely...

WP Robot

Autopilot System X

WP Robot

It's an incredible plugin for Wordpress that posts articles for you automatically; I would daresay this is one of the most useful plugins for AutoBlog.

On top of just posting articles and such, it can also post products from Clickbank or Amazon and even videos and pictures for you:

Additional Tip: Always be sure to monetize your blog with AdSense, Commission Junction affiliate links and relevant Clickbank products!

Notice: There are many other plugins that are introduced in Auto Instant Profits which you can use to easily post articles and generate posts for your autoblog! Best of all, you don't even need to check on the blog often and it's posting by itself and that's definitely the most attractive part about AutoBlogging. 😊

AutoBlogging: Autopilot System

Setting up an autopilot system that helps you generate auto instant profits is pretty easy in today's date. There are so many plugins and tools out there that you can use to your benefit.

In this short report, we've shown you some basic things and plugins/tools of which you can use to setup your own autoblog and earn some additional cash. Of course, if you wish, you can purchase a copy of Auto Instant Profits, which is a much more detailed book that talks about Autoblogging.

On top of just introducing more useful plugins and tools, in Auto Instant Profits, there would also be step-by-step guides to teach you how to use those plugins correctly and maximize your profits (completed with screenshots and live examples)!

AutoBlogging is actually very easy and so long as you know what are the tools to use, you can definitely succeed in this area!
